What we're about:

*Learning, practicing & implementing social-emotional skills that promote mental health & wellness, while also using these skills to support ourselves and those around us.

*Education about the amazing gifts that animals can play in our lives.

*Supporting the mental health needs of both students & staff in the school environment.

*Creating conversation surrounding acceptance, understanding, empathy and non-judgment of mental health conditions & challenges.

*Teaching & promoting strategies to combat bullying and life stressors.

Check out these testimonials about our work:

"A seventh-grade student said, "Now I can make it through the afternoon," after receiving a hug from Willow."
-Kari Green, Monticello Middle School Media Specialist

"There is nothing like seeing the faces of children light up with excitement when they see Amy and Willow inside the school helping children to be stronger and equipped with new skills."

-Eric Olson, Superintendent of Monticello Public Schools
